

Lost in Forever

Crystal Lake

Birth of emotion and death through the flood
I've never felt alive seeking death through your blood
You smell taste touch the same
But how's it feel to go through change
Holding me for this misery to escape it all What makes them memories?
Is the way we chose to stay
To save our everything
Then it seems like I just don't belong You know we drew these lines while trapped inside
Are we who you say we've become?
Somehow we draw these lines while trapped inside
Will we realize what we've become?
Are these our memories?
Never thought we would fall for nothing
No
Always thought we could stand for something
But you failed to express this one thing
That you and I are still meant for everything You know we drew these lines while trapped inside
Are we who you say we've become?
Somehow we draw these lines while trapped inside
Will we realize we're lost in the moment that we've called forever Break free
I'm settled like the reservoir
Every comfort feels the same without you anymore
Crucified my own desire
But you want what you can't just like I want the same
If I finish what I started
What will I have to lose
You're the scar in my heart
Living proof of my youth
When will I ever again or never again
Will our heart beat synchronize again? Can you hear me
Are you near me
The closer I get
The further away you go We're lost in the moment that we've called forever

Lyrics provided by <http://greatlyrics.net/>