

Back of Your Mind

Jimmie Allen

Does he take your hand
Does he make you laugh
Tell me girl, is it a temporary thing
Does he play with your hair
Wrap you up in his arms
Kiss your lips and watch you fall asleep
You ain't gotta say it
But I know that you miss me 'cause
My phone rings with your name on it
You got a picture with him wearing the shirt that I bought you
You know he'll never do it like I do
That's why you send a text at two in the morning
Everybody knows that he's holding you tonight
But you hold me in the back of your mind
Did you make a mistake, your little heartbreak
What if I said I miss you too
We can get it together girl, tell him it's over
I'm over missing you
I ain't gotta say it
We both know the truth 'cause
My phone rings with your name on it
You got a picture with him wearing the shirt that I bought you
You know he'll never do it like I do
That's why you send a text at two in the morning
Everybody knows that he's holding you tonight
But you hold me in the back of your mind
He might be the safe kind
But girl he ain't the right guy
My phone still rings with your name on it
You got a picture with him wearing the shirt that I bought you
You know he'll never do it like I do
That's why you send a text at two in the morning
Everybody knows that he's holding you tonight
But you hold me in the back of your mind
My phone rings with your name on it
You got a picture with him wearing the shirt that I bought you, girl
Sending me a text at two in the morning
Everybody knows that he's holding you tonight
But you hold me in the back of your mind
