

Everything but You

Megan McKenna

I have friends, more than enough
I have someone I can call, when I need a pick me up
I have a house, almost a home
And my family around the corner, I am not alone
Don't wanna be selfish
I want more than this
At the end of the day
I miss the touch of your lips
I want butterflies
Slamming doors
Wet towels on the bathroom floor
Sunday lie-ins
Awkward silence
Shout out to you, we can't no more
I didn't think I'd miss the things that made me mad
It's true
I have everything
I do
But you I have faith
Believe in fate
That there's someone round the corner
Yeah I only have to wait
But I am scared
It's just too late
If I gave my heart again
Then it's surely gonna break
Don't wanna be selfish
I want more than this (more than this)
At the end of the day
I miss the touch of your lips
I want butterflies
Slamming doors
Wet towels on the bathroom floor
Sunday lie-ins
Awkward silence
Shout out to you, we can't no more
I didn't think I'd miss the things that made me mad
It's true
I have everything
I do
But you Nobody says when it's 6AM
And you're up for work
The days gone again
Nobody says you gotta stop, rewind
'Cause you're just too tired
To give him the time
Nobody says when it comes to love

You've gotta give them just enough
What's the point in all of this
If you can't call him up? I want butterflies
Slamming doors
Wet towels on the bathroom floor
Sunday lie-ins
Awkward silence
Shout out to you, we can't no more I didn't think I'd miss the things that made me mad
It's true
I have everything
I do
I'd do anything
It's true
I have everything
I do
But you
