If I Can't Have You (feat. Sam Sparro)

Kylie Minogue & Garibay

I wish that I could save you
I wish that I knew how to save myself
I wish I could replace you
But there can never be nobody else
It's just two hearts, beating time
Love has no reason and it has no rhyme
I wish that I could keep this alive
'Cos if I can't have you
There's just no way that I forgive myself
I pay all my dues
Anything to make you change your mind
If I can't have you, I'll regret it the rest of my life
I'm drowning with you on my mind
I've got nothing to lose, if I can't have you
Now let's make a break in
I'm picking up the pieces on my own
You got me feeling naked
With nothing but a bleeding heart exposed
It's just two hearts, beating time
Love has no reason and it has no rhyme
I wish that I could keep this alive
'Cos if I can't have you
There's just no way that I forgive myself
I pay all my dues
Anything to make you change your mind
If I can't have you, I'll regret it the rest of my life
I'm drowning with you on my mind
I've got nothing to lose, if I can't have you
No one in space or time can't even hold
We're all what we know, if I only known
If I could say one thing that hasn't been told
If only it's wrong
We know that it's right
'Cos if I can't have you
There's just no way that I forgive myself
I pay all my dues
Anything to make you change your mind
If I can't have you, I'll regret it the rest of my life
I'm drowning with you on my mind
I've got nothing to lose, if I can't have you
I've got nothing to lose, if I can't have you
