

Saturday Night (feat. Transplants & Slash)

Travis Barker

Every night is a Saturday night
Every night is a Saturday night
Every night is a Saturday night
Saturday night for me In a city boulevard, broken and neglected
When the sun sets, expect the unexpected
Listen to me closely, I'm a straight shooter
Met a policeman, who call's himself a looter Met this girl named Sasaco, in the naked city
Things can go so very wrong, sitting on your pity
Couldn't even split, it's a two way tour
Too late now, the devil's knockin' at my door Every night is a Saturday night
Every night is a Saturday night
Every night is a Saturday night
Saturday night for me
I see things a little different through the blood in my eyes
And though you might have fooled them others
I see through your disguise
I rise, I'm gettin' by, no lies, I'm gettin' high
I ain't worried 'bout the next, bet I'm gettin' mine With this mirror by the cord, no G by the zip
My old lady by my side and my chrome on my hip
We hit the freeway, flyin' twenty-one in the front
Cheatin' death but I know the reaper's still on the hunt
(So what?) Every night is a Saturday night
Every night is a Saturday night
Every night is a Saturday night
Saturday night for me Always movin' on, town to town
Ain't never gon' slow us down
Never let up, never subside
Uncheckable, born to ride
I got a monkey on my back, it's a constant reminder
Let's me know I need let it go, there ain't no survivors
Still I'm, "I'm sayin' fuck you, roll it, I'm getting' higher"
Both my lungs and liver beggin' me to retire, nope Every night is a Saturday night
Every night is a Saturday night
Every night is a Saturday night
Saturday night for me
