

Wings

Mac Miller

Yeah

Well I got a bone to pick like roses (roses)

I ain't feelin' broken no more

Bought a fist that got spent, I notice

Talkin' shit, I wander through the motives

Wonder who the fuck I'm supposed to be

I ain't worried now 'til I leave

I'm just tryna ride, feel the breeze

With something bad beside next to me

Wind in my face, don't stop now

when it feels so great

You can run 'til you slip on the sidewalk

And the same bone that you picked on break, that's a motif

(That's a motif)

Yeah, when it's coming right back,

So familiar, never been realer

Never felt so damn good where I'm at

I don't know what it's all about,

Runnin' through the many thought that count

Still ain't adding up, let you know when I've had enough, yeah

Yeah

I put some money on forever, but I (hey)

Don't like to gamble on the weather, so I, just, watch, well

The sun is shinin', I can look at the horizon

The walls keep getting wider

I just hope I never find 'em, I know

Hey These are my wings, these are my wings, yeah

These are my wings, yeah, well Movin' so fast, the clock look slow (slow)

Water my seeds 'til the flower just grow, yeah

Love so much that my heart get broke

I don't really know how the normal shit go, so

I guess I just play it by ear, silence is all that I hear

Listening close as I can, growing up (123) jump

Nobody holding my hand, no

Trust is a problem, never know how, yeah

That's why I just keep to myself

Get what I need, then I'll be out (please help me)

Who can the serve the universe with me

Lucifer is human and so are we

All I ever want is what I need

And that don't include your time and company

Follow me, we on the up and up

Remember when I owed a hundred bucks
Now, I look around like what the fuck?
If you don't fuck with me, you fucking up
I know I need to watch my temper, so I
Don't ever gamble on the weather
But I, just, watch, well, look
The sun is shinin', I can look at the horizon
The walls keep getting wider,
I just hope I never find 'em, no, no
Hey, well These are my wings
These are my wings
These are my wings
