

The Woman With You

Kenny Chesney

She hit the door 6: 55
Sack full of groceries, split down the sides
Can goods scattered all the way to the curb
The look on her face saying, don't say a word
So it's me and her, and a can of beans
Sittin' there on the front porch swing
The western sky all turning red
Head on my shoulder, she sighed and said. I've been goffering', chaufferin', company chairman
Coffee maker, copy repairman
Any more there aint nothing I swear man, that I don't do.
I've been jugglin', strugglin', closin' big deals
Dancin' backwards in high heels
And just when it feels like I can't make it through.
She said, It sure is nice to just be the woman with you.
She said, The girl I was with a business degree
Probably wouldn't recognize me
I was gonna run the bank, I was gonna run the math
Now all I wanna run is a bubble bath
Back then you know I had this plan
Before all of this reality set in Here'd come life boy, ready or not
Hey, I wanted it all and thats what I got. I've been goffering', chaufferin', company chairman
Coffee maker, copy repairman
Any more there ain't nothing I swear man, that I don't do
I've been jugglin', strugglin', closin' big deals
Dancin' backwards in high heels
And just when it feels like I can't make it through
She said, It sure is nice to just be the woman with you.
She said, I'm goffering', chaufferin', company chairman
Coffee maker, copy repairman
Any more there ain't nothing I swear man, that I don't do
I've been jugglin', strugglin', closin' big deals
Dancin' backwards in high heels
And just when it feels like I can't make it through
She said. It sure is nice to just be the woman,
The woman with you.
ummm umm um. La la la la yeah Woman with you...
