

We Could Go Back (feat. Moelogo)

Jonas Blue

Should have, could have, would have, but it's too late
Shouldn't catch feelings on a first date
0 to 100, no first base
Ended up with coffee back at your place Every night is keeping me awake
I keep thinking about all the things I would change If I could go back
Tell me would you even, would you still believe in
And if we could turn back
Tell me would you even, would you still believe in me? but it's no race
Never a time to find our own pace
Trying to drive feelings that won't go away
Sleep in the bed of my own mistakes
Every night is keeping me awake
I keep thinking about all the things I would change If I could go back
Tell me would you even, would you still believe in
And if we could turn back
Tell me would you even, would you still believe in me? I know time waits for no man
I'm standing here now with no plans
Let's go, baby
Go, go, baby
I know time waits for no man
I'm standing here now with no plans
Let's go, baby
Go, go, baby
If I could go back
Tell me would you even, would you still believe in
And if we could turn back (if we could come back)
Tell me would you even, would you still believe in me?
Tell me would you still believe in me
Tell me would you still believe
