

Stay Strong

Bars and Melody

Oh yeah

Whoa oh There's this girl I know, she feels unknown

Just wanna have attention, cries on her own

Got nobody to go to she feels so scared

Doesn't wanna go to school, cries in her bed

She got a couple friends they think she's okay

Inside the pain haunts her, day by day

She still hasn't given up, she doesn't see the point

She just wants happiness but emotions disappoint

She blames herself, it drives her mad

For every single little trouble that she's ever had

The pain she endures you can see it through her shirt

Bearing the scars of society's burns No more pain

No more tears

There's no need to cry no more there's nothing left to fear

No more pain

No more tears

You don't need to lie no more cause' now you know we're here She hides herself, no one hears her cries

If only you could see the world through her eyes All she wanted, is one little friend

To stick by her til the very end

She didn't ask for a lot, in fact nothing at all

Yeah she was still hit around and called a fool

She didn't wanna fight

She just wanted some love

When she was lonely just one hug

And to feel like she was accepted

Instead of pushed around, left out and rejected

You gotta stay strong nothing lasts forever

You are never alone, we'll do this together

No more pain

No more tears

There's no need to cry no more there's nothing left to fear No more pain

No more tears

You don't need to lie no more cause' now you know we're here She can't take it no more

She's taken enough

She's been strong for so long but she ain't that tough

Scared of letting go but no one seems to care Yeah

Scared to carry on cause' there's no one there

A frustrated girl, bearing the scars

Fighting her fears behind spiritual bars

One day this girl, I saw her face

She messed it with a smile (I could tell it was fake)
She broke down in tears, said I saved her life
Crying, she asked, "Can I be your wife?"
I answered, "Hey there girl, tell me what is wrong"
She told me everything so I dedicate this song
No more pain (don't cry)
No more tears (no more tears running down your face)
There's no need to cry no more there's nothing left to fear (no more pain)
No more pain
No more tears
You don't need to lie no more cause' now you know we're here
Ooooooo
No more...
Ooh ooh
