

Life Goes On

Donell Jones

[Donell Talking]

Damn man... I had it all before I got up in here[Jail Bars Slam Shut]Girl I know that you been creepin

Can't believe it, but I'm locked up in here
Don't get no letters or no money or no visits
Its like I don't exist

And if it wasn't for my daughters
Then I wouldn't have no reason to live
But I've come to realize that life goes on
Since the day that I got locked up
My lifes been different. oh yeah.

'cause she was my soul, my heart, my love, my best friend
I can't understand why,

She won't accept my phone calls.

Shoulda knew something was wrong

When mama said "baby its time for you to move on..."

Now that everything I had. is goneGirl I know that you been creepin

Can't believe it, but I'm locked up in here
Don't get no letters or no money or no visits
Its like I don't exist

And if it wasn't for my daughters
Then I wouldn't have no reason to live
But I've come to realize that life goes on
See I never thought that you would Leave me dry and all alone

'cause part of the reason I sit where I am
I was tryin to provide a home

Now I know that I'm not going to be there

Like I used to

But your promise to me

Was that you never would leave

And that remains to be seen

I guess everything I had is lost and gone...Girl I know that you been creepin

Can't believe it, but I'm locked up in here
Don't get no letters or no money or no visits
Its like I don't exist

And if it wasn't for my daughters

Then I wouldn't have no reason to live

But I've come to realize that life goes onSee I had it all...

When I was on the streets

I gave you everything

(Everything that you could want)

Now that I'm locked away
With no where to turn
Now you wanna up and run
(How could you do me wrong?)
All those precious times
That we used to share
Been thrown away
(As far as I can see)
See I gave my heart and soul
And now you turn away from me
Girl I know that you been creepin
Can't believe it, but I'm locked up in here
Don't get no letters or no money or no visits
Its like I don't exist
And if it wasn't for my daughters
Then I wouldn't have no reason to live
But I've come to realize that life goes on
