

In a Minute or 2

Rich O'Toole

Well you told me to come to Dallas
It'll be okay this time
And I know that you would like it
Won't you sit back and tell me things
That I know you need me to hear
Little girl I know you loved me so much but baby look at your sin now Well in a minute or 2
I'll come back to you
I've been gone too long
You've been singing that same ol' song It's just like you to say my name
It's just like me to pass the blame
On those lonely nights girl I know you've been alone
And I don't mind if you read every line
Of every letter that I didn't send
That's okay I know you ain't alone again, you ain't alone again
Well guess what girl I lie to yeah
Well in a minute or 2
I'll come back to you
I've been gone too long
You've been singing that same ol' song Well in a minute or 2
I'll come back to you
I've been gone too long
You've been singing that same ol' song It's just so hard to be around
To pick you up off the floor
I just can't stand to
See you like this anymore
Reach for something that you don't need
Just to get you by
You look at the clock
Stare at the time
The seconds go by
Hours fly I won't say goodbye
Well in a minute or 2
I'll come back to you
I've been gone too long
You've been singing that same ol' song Well in a minute or 2
I'll come back to you
I've been gone too long
You've been singing that same ol' song Well in a minute or 2
I'll come back to you
I've been gone too long
You've been singing that same ol' song
Well in a minute or 2

I'll come back to you
I'll come back to you
Yeahhhhhhhhhhhhhhhhh
In a minute or 2 (won't you please come home)
I'll come back to you (won't you please come home)
