

The Day

NateWantsToBattle

You see the Sunrise
A new day's upon you
You bite you nails, and you knees start to Tremble
The time is upon you to show them what you can do
-And soon they will know that
THE DAY HAS COME!Late into the night I hear it stormin'
-And into the rain is what I pray and I'm hopin
Now I feel the pressure of of the City
Oh, How it eats me Whole
So many names and faces
Sleepless nights spent in unknown places
-And every day I watch read into the great unkown
I'm not to blame
I'm gonna take a stand
Say my name
I'm telling you to reach out and finally take my hand!Their word's gonna make you
You grit your teeth
-Or their gonna break you
The time is upon you to show them what you can do
You're breaking the the mold to show your
NOT THEM!
Will we break through?
I DON'T KNOW, DON'T KNOW
The bells are ringing
Come out and play now!
The time is upon you to show them what you can do
-And soon they will know that
THE DAY HAS COME!
