

Let You Go (feat. Great Good Fine Ok)

The Chainsmokers

You end up alone, after all that you've done
All that you've paid for
Did you get what you wanted?
You loaded a the gun with all you were made of
When you're alone,
People don't think you know what you're made of, oh
Are you better than me?
It's not up to say, it's all that you wait for Now I'll find a way, I'm seeing it through can you not be hateful.
While we're alive, can we relax, isn't that what our maids for? You were there for me
And I was there for you
How-oh will I let you go?
You will always be the one
That I regret
How-oh will I let you go?
You're here in the way
How could you stay with all that I paid for?
Leave any time, won't let you wait
How could you be sure?
You're holding out hope
I'm seeing it too, I'm trying to follow, oh
I've been through hell and back again
I've come to understand that when
You tell me that I can't pretend
I either care about your stuff
Make the most of the things that might be rough
I let you go Oh, holding out hope for you
Holding out hope,
Holding out hope for you
You were there for me
And I was there for you
How-oh will I let you go?
You will always be the one that I regret
How-oh will I let you go?
Let you go
Let you go
Let you go
Let you go Oh, holding out hope for you
Holding out hope,
Holding out hope for you You were there for me
And I was there for you
Oh oh, I remember times like that!

You will always be the one
That I regret
Ho-ow will I let you go? Let you go
Let you go
Let you go
Let you go

Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by <http://greatlyrics.net/>