

Satisfied

Jordan Feliz

I have stumbled through the darkest of valley's
I have climbed upon the highest of hills
All my traveling has brought me to your fountain
All I want is to come and drink my fill X2My heart
Your throne
This life belongs to you and you alone Let there be No divide
Only you may my soul be satisfiedThere is beauty that can lead into temptation
There are voices that will call me far away
I have found in my surrender your salvation
And in your love I've come to find a resting place X2
There broken, there thirsty who long for your mercy can run to you only you and peace everlasting beyond understanding
In you only you
