

Pull the Trigger (feat. Cammie Robinson)

Flux Pavilion

These days,
Better just not to talk,
Just watching where you walking,
Everybody watches what we do. And it's strange,
Never thought it would've been this way,
Doesn't matter what I say,
'Cause I know that nothing's changed. You fired off like a smoking gun,
Left me for dead, like a hit and run.
You made me feel there was something to fight for
But there was just nothing at all... And I'm standing here,
Chasing all my fears,
But I've got nothing, nothing more to give to you.
And I'm trying hard,
I've played all my cards, but I've got nothing,
Why don't you just pull the trigger? Why don't you just pull the trigger? Why don't you just pull the trigger?
(My love oh, my love oh, oh my love) Why don't you just pull the trigger?
(My love, oh, my love oh, oh my love) You fired off like a smoking gun,
Left me for dead, like a hit and run.
You made me feel there was something to fight for
But there was just nothing at all... And I'm standing here,
Chasing all my fears,
But I've got nothing, nothing more to give to you. And I'm trying hard,
I've played all my cards, but I've got nothing,
Why don't you just pull the trigger?
Why don't you just pull the trigger? Why don't you just pull the trigger?
(My love, oh, my love oh, oh my love) Why don't you just pull the trigger?
(My love, oh, my love oh, oh my love) Why don't you just pull the trigger? And I'm standing here,
Chasing all my fears,
But I've got nothing, nothing more to give to you. And I'm trying hard,
I've played all my cards, but I've got nothing,
Why don't you just pull the trigger?
Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by <http://greatlyrics.net/>