

Pause

Cal Scruby

I wrote this when I was speedin' I think I mean it.
I was drinking when my demons started signing agreements.
And every morning now I'm forced to say the pledge of allegiance to a nation that's under satan hoping god can redeem us.
All I really need is freedom of speech and a pad and pencil.
Preferably mechanical number two with a stencil.
I write until the verses are perfect it isn't working.
I listen to the radio I guess the words are worthless.
It sound like they conversin' in cursive they got me yellin' curse words when chruch is in service.
I'm trynna blow up like a middle-eastern insurgent.
Give me some virgins if not Imma need a bottle of Jergens.
Man I feel you pause round of applause for those stayin' down for the cause.
Break bread with the same mofuckas down to break laws.
Break it down roll it up in Raws.
Ay let me hit pause round of applause for those stayin' down for the cause.
Break bread with the same mofuckas down to break laws.
Break it down roll it up in Raws.
Said let me hit that.
Now you should let me hit that.
Said you should let me hit that. I wrote this when I was sober you think I'm jokin'.
I'm used to blacking out and just blocking out my emotions.
A little smoking fixes everything that's broken.
If you feeling all yo feelings take a dose of the potion.
Abracadabra now shit don't even matter.
You don't got the grey matter that can handle my data.
Had to break it down for you like it's all mathematics.
They know how to lose money just don't know how to add it.
Applause and laughter for the small in stature.
Fast talking honest rapper who's an awkward napper
Everytime I try to dance I'm gettin' called a cracker.
Even my girl wish I was talkin' blacker.
Man I feel you pause round of applause for those stayin' down for the cause.
Break bread with the same mofuckas down to break laws.
Break it down roll it up in Raws.
Ay let me hit pause round of applause for those stayin' down for the cause.
Break bread with the same mofuckas down to break laws.
Break it down roll it up in Raws.
Said let me hit that.
Now you should let me hit that.
Said you should let me hit that. I wrote this when I was drunk and high at the same time.
If I needed couldn't even walk a straight line.

I can't lie it's something I can't hide I'm drunk and I can't drive this truck and it ain't mine.
I ain't signed I mean I could if I wanted to.
Put one or two offers on the table in front of you.
Then they cut the budget down when they discover another you.
Only more commercial not as controversial with the verses.
A younger dumber group of fans with credit cards to purchase.
It's how they always get you man they pitch the perfect picture.
Then it finally hits you this about the richest gettin' richer. Man I feel you pause round of applause for those stayin' down for the cause.
Break bread with the same mofuckas down to break laws.
Break it down roll it up in Raws.
Ay let me hit pause round of applause for those stayin' down for the cause.
Break bread with the same mofuckas down to break laws.
Break it down roll it up in Raws.
Said let me hit that.
Now you should let me hit that.
Said you should let me hit that.
