Massive Attack

Don't tell your man what he don't do right
Nor tell him all the things that make you cry
But check yourself for your own shit
And don't be making out like it's all his
Take a look around the world
You see such bad things happening
There are many good men
Ask yourself, is he one of them?
The deadliest of sin is pride
Make you feel like you're always right
But there are always two sides
It takes two to make love, two to make a life
Take a look around the world
You see such mad things happening
There the few good men
Thank your lucky stars that he's one of them
