

Alcohol You Later

Mitchell Tenpenny

Number one on my speed dial
I changed her name so my friends won't find out
They're all heading home now
And I got word that she's hanging downtown I know I shouldn't do it
Oh, but these shots I'm shooting
Make me not give a damn And now it's one more last time
We swore we wouldn't
But it's one more sunrise breaking through these curtains
And I know when we're sober we'll both say it's over
But it ain't really over
'Cause alcohol, alcohol, alcohol you later
Alcohol, alcohol, alcohol you later
Two for ones on a Tuesday
Bartender poured 'em too strong 'cause he knows me
Then I take out my phone, find out if she's at home
'Cause I need someone to drink with And now it's one more last time
We swore we wouldn't
But it's one more sunrise breaking through these curtains
And I know when we're sober we'll both say it's over
But it ain't really over
'Cause alcohol, alcohol, alcohol you later
Alcohol, alcohol, alcohol you later I know I shouldn't do it
Oh but these shots I'm shooting
Make me not give a damn
Because it's one more last time
We swore we wouldn't
But it's one more sunrise breaking through these curtains
And I know when we're sober we'll both say it's over
But it ain't really over
'Cause alcohol, alcohol, alcohol you later
Alcohol, alcohol, alcohol you later

Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by <http://greatlyrics.net/>