

Bombs Away

Gia

It's over now, who's to blame
When you're in too deep and you can't escape?
It's closing in, changing shades
I hope that then we can still?
Written on the wall, written on the wall
Hidden where we couldn't get it all, couldn't get it all
Missing when we could have been involved, should have been involved
So I give another call, still holding on
To the way things were, for one last time
It was all a blur, and killing my time
Back to the way it was, giving all my heart away
Back to the way it was,
Bombs away!
Some other day, I'll give my heart away
Suddenly, I'm only in it half way
Yesterday is now a mile away
Forgive me, but tonight I'm singing bombs away
It's over now, who's to blame
When you're in too deep and you can't escape?
It's closing in, changing shades
I hope that then we can still?
Written on the wall, written on the wall
Hidden where we couldn't get it all, couldn't get it all
Missing when we could have been involved, should have been involved
To the way things were, for one last time
It was all a blur, and killing my time
Back to the way it was, giving all my heart away
Back to the way it was,
Bombs away!

Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by <http://greatlyrics.net/>