

Live Your Life

Otis Taylor

Just live your life
Before you die
Just might be for a little while
Just live your life
Before you die
Only might be, for a little while
Death won't touch you
Won't touch you on your heart
Death will come and knock you
Knock you on your back
Death won't come and touch you
Touch you on your heart
Just come along
And knock you down
Live your life
Before you die
Just might be, for a little while
You know the trees need water
And the shops need sun
And the baby seals, they know what you're talking about
Just live your life
Before you die
Only might be, might be, for a little while
