

Venom (feat. Freestyle, Q-Unique & Jise One)

Arsonists

venom - freestyle's first verse... within my intricate weave of brain cells i withhold the main spell to cast upon you demons plottin' and schemin', dreamin' about things that will never occur in this dimension, far beyond your wildest imagination, the illustration's suspended animation i put you on pause 'cause you're too busy bendin' rules while i'm breakin' laws of gravity don't give a damn if you're mad at me fillin' jaws with cavities if you're still breathin' you should be glad to be alive, some don't survive or live to see the next day you can't reset and ain't no freebie in the game that you play you slither skillfully and willfully all over my trust then it's a must that you bite the dust, you might have to get bust or persecuted, executed, lyrically degraded mentally decapitated, makin' sure you never made it 'cause i'm fed up with you're mission, stupid niggas never listen, talkin' 'bout they're never dissin', on their own people they're pissin' the hissins at a tone undetected by ears the advantage is his own if you have neglectable fears slidin' through cracks and crevices, no matter how tight show fright, and prey gets swallowed up in one bite...venom - freestyle's third and last verse of the song word... all jokes aside this matter can be complicated you could fail in unveilin' the ones who perpetrate, kid their cloak and dagger hides their desire to use the next kin it's hereditary and necessary to she'd skin it tends to burn when you're touched by the holy spirit presented with the word of god and you don't wanna hear it you can't be near it, you fear it, it always foils your plans you deal with greed and always feedin' of the blood of man it's all a hoax, you try to coax when you're up in my center you enter but the temptor's not my mentor it's my belief within the chemistry, i preach my ministry got my seal of authenticity, that's why you're always dissin' me interference with signal's the thing i always try to prevent slippery serpents

you need to repent and ain't no reptile with fangs long enough to take my shit from time to time i pray and stay away from deep snake pits
