

No Souvenirs

Melissa Etheridge

Hello, hello
This is Romeo
Calling from a jackpot telephone
Shame, shame
But I love your name
And the way you make the buffalo roam
Oh oh oh fly, fly
I guess this is goodbye
Oh, you packed up your heart
And you left no souvenirs
But if you want me
You can call me
In the night you know where I'll be
Broken lover
You can touch me
In the dark the innocent can't see
You lock it up now
Hide the key
It would mean surrender to let me see
Oh brave, brave soldier
Keep it under cover
You fell alone
Like no other lover
Burn the pictures
Break the records
Run far away to a northern town
Sell your fear and leave me standing here
No souvenirs
Once, twice
Thought it might be nice
To come into your kitchen and play
Cool, cool
Just a crazy fool
I never saw it any other way
Oh oh oh wait, wait
I guess I'm just too late
Oh, you made up your mind
Love shouldn't be so hard
But if you want me
You can call me
In the night you know where I'll be
Broken lover
You can touch me

In the dark the innocent can't see
You lock it up now
Hide the key
It would mean surrender to let me see
Oh brave, brave soldier
Keep it under cover
You fell alone
Like no other lover
Burn the pictures
Break the records
Run far away to a northern town
Sell your fear and leave me standing here
No souvenirs No shirts, no shoes
No jackets, no blues
You car's for sale
You forward your mail
You're growing your hair
You don't want to know where I'm calling you from
Or how come But if you want me
You can call me
In the night you know where I'll be
Broken lover
You can touch me
In the dark the innocent can't see
You lock it up now
Hide the key
It would mean surrender to let me see
Brave, brave soldier
Keep it under cover
You fell alone
Like no other lover
Burn the pictures
Break the records
Run far away to a northern town
Sell your fear and leave me standing here
With no souvenirs Hello, hello
This is Romeo

Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by <http://greatlyrics.net/>