

Scars of Yesterday

DragonForce

Suffer the raging anger creeping below
Trapped in the circle, so helpless
Forces beyond
This is your last chance to die I hear a thousand voices screaming my name
Dreams of a life forgotten now will be gone
Never to return again Hide from the light, in fear, rohypnified
Filtered and disguised
Burning forever, try to remember
Sadness in her eyes So many times now we've been here before
No more illusions behind the open door
Trapped within my fierce desire, resistance is futile
Screaming for your life, nowhere to hide
Tonight we cross the line, your innocence is mine
Falling down, my life fading now to the end
One last chance of glory in my heart again
Set me free from craving the one thing I can't have inside of me
But is it all a waste of time? Lost in the misery, the fatal demise
Forced to a living that no one can understand
Hiding behind all the lies Lifetime in slavery, your cries are in vain
Lurking around the shadows onto the end
Fearless in fatal disguise Wake from the dream, the life you left behind
Time to understand
Lost in the laughter, life everafter
Trials of a broken man
And through this madness a new day will rise
We shall remember the pain she held inside
Fear the pain inside my heart, our sacrifice in vain
Screaming for your life, nowhere to hide
This everlasting strain, driving you insane Falling down, my life fading now to the end
One last chance of glory in my heart again
Set me free from craving the one thing I can't have inside of me
But is it all a waste of time? Still lost in the universe, we cry for a new day to come
Break free from our loneliness, the last time
Pray tonight as we try to understand Falling down, my life fading now to the end
I'm alive forever, my soul will ascend
One last chance of glory in my heart again
Set me free from this craving the one thing I can't have inside of me
Just a memory
Or is it all a waste of time?
