

Far Cry from Love

Megan McKenna

Another night of endless tears
Another day I wake without your touch
I go to tie my hair and fix my face
And then I lay back down and cry I'm right back where I've been before
So many broken hearts ago
If all is fair in love and war
I've got to let you go But if I had a reason good enough
To believe in you and trust
I would take you back again
I'd hold on for us
But I can't forget your face
And the lies you can't erase
How you left me in that place
A far cry from love
You're the first one I would call
About a thousand times a day I start to reach for you
You're the only one who'd understand
Nobody knows me like you do I'll miss your arms, your eyes, your lips
And all the love we made before
But you're the cause of all of this
So you can be the cure Baby I'll need a reason good enough
To believe in you and trust
I would take you back again
I'd hold on for us
But I can't forget your face
And the lies you can't erase
How you left me in that place
A far cry from love
Every excuse that you tried to tell me
Every lie you tried to sell me
Broken hearts can only heal with time Baby I'll have a reason good enough
I'll believe in you and trust
On the day you finally see
That the way you treated me
Was a far cry from love

Lyrics provided by <http://greatlyrics.net/>