

By Fire

Hiatus Kaiyote

Direct to the old Navajo by the fire Wish we were burn your design Suede and hawk feather entwine me to the time Arizona in due mind
A bell that rings in the chest of story told meet you in this future bold Sage at key point lead me to his funeral a man lost young and old Regret less the knot yes I give you the end to hold And through darkness and earth wet I seek through the land to mould a woman that rests night and day, sweat and tears unfold to undress the burdens that caress the blessed I'm told

Lyrics provided by <http://greatlyrics.net/>