

A Tap Dancer's Dilemma

Diablo Swing Orchestra

I see them days are coming
We hear them roar
They'll bring the end upon us
And we will have no mercy no more
Then you'll search for your soul salvation
Our hands are bound
We cry out for direction
But only those truly lost can be found
Why won't you
Save them, oh let me save you
Heal them, I can heal you
Make them closer to your heart
We can't just watch these walls come tumbling down
Why won't you save them, oh let me save you
Heal them, I can heal you
Make them closer to your heart
We can't just watch these walls come tumbling down
In the final hour, you can cleanse your souls
By whispering Hallelujah
Now raise your hands, give praise to him
By singing Hallelujah
Saved from the cold, 'cause I can do without you getting praise where I go
There's a truth to be told, and I don't want them to go
Why won't you
Save them, oh I want to save you
Heal them, let me release you
Make them closer to your heart
We can't just watch these walls come tumbling down
Why won't you save them, I will redeem you
Heal them, if you hear my praise
Make them closer to your heart
We can't just watch these walls come tumbling down
Saved from the cold, 'cause I can do without you getting praise where I go
There's a truth to be told
But I don't want you to go
Pale from the fall, if that's your excuse then you'll never be called
There's a truth to be told
I just don't want it to show
Why won't you
Save them, I want to save you
Heal them, I can heal you
Make them closer to your heart
We can't just watch these walls come tumbling down
Why won't you save them, mark my words
Heal them, I'll bless your souls
Make them closer to your heart

We can't just watch these walls come tumbling down

Lyrics provided by <http://greatlyrics.net/>