

Light of Day

Dawin

How could you deal with such pain every day?
Ignore the cure that could take it away
Better than him, I'll always be with love and everything
In my arms, you'll quickly be in full recovery I was like, oh, all of that stress gonna go
Away when you let me hold you
In every single way that's possible, possible
I was like, oh, all you gotta do is let me know
When you gonna let him go
When you gonna let him go It's like the moon is in the way
And you can't see the light of day
It's like the moon is in the way
And from the sun, you run away
Let, let me know when, let me know
Let, let me know when, let me know
Let, let me know when
When you gonna let him go, go
Let, let me know when, let me know
Let, let me know when, let me know
Let, let me know when, let me know
Let, let me know when I know you're stuck on the lies that he said
But baby, how could you settle for less?
No one should ever be that blind or ever take your sign
And I tell you every time, I'll fix that when you're mine I was like, oh, all of that stress gonna go
Away when you let me hold you
In every single way that's possible, possible
I was like, oh, all you gotta do is let me know
When you gonna let him go
When you gonna let him go
It's like the moon is in the way
And you can't see the light of day
It's like the moon is in the way
And from the sun, you run away Let, let me know when, let me know
Let, let me know when, let me know
Let, let me know when
When you gonna let him go, go
Let, let me know when, let me know
Let, let me know when, let me know
Let, let me know when, let me know
Let, let me know when, let me know
Let, let me know when, let me know You chose Joker over Batman
How can you escape? He got you trapped in
I got a plan, though, follow my lead, girl
Just make him believe that you don't wanna be there

Little by little, girl, you gon' be mine
I gotta remind you that you're way too fine
To be crying and taking the blame for things you didn't do
It's driving me insane I was like, oh, all of that stress gonna go
Away when you let me hold you
In every single way that's possible, possible
I was like, oh, all you gotta do is let me know
When you gonna let him go
When you gonna let him go
It's like the moon is in the way
And you can't see the light of day
It's like the moon is in the way
And from the sun, you run away
