

Breakout

Bee Gees

It don't matter who you are
Anyone can be a star
Brighter than the lightning
You go as far as you go
You got to be what you know
There may be somebody out to get the better of you
You need the one good woman to keep you alive
Don't let the pressure beat a hole in your head
Remember nobody left you on the railway line
And if the one shoe fits you've got a chance this time
Breakout
Ain't no one gonna break your heart
You'll never do it if you never start
You be there
Breakout now
You gotta be a story told
And baby, no one gonna steal your soul
You be there
If you believe in tomorrow and you wait all night
You've got it all and then you're lost in flight
There are diamonds in the street
But you don't get enough to eat
Walking on a wire
There is a future unknown
Nobody does it alone(break)
And maybe you can be the thunder
If you follow your dream
There must be one good woman to show you the way
Don't let them make you feel you're less than you are Remember, somebody calls you on the telephone line and all the world gets crazy and you win this time
Breakout
Ain't no one gonna break your heart
You'll never do it if you never start
You be there
Breakout now
You gotta be the story told
And baby, no one's gonna steal your soul
You be there
If you believe in tomorrow and you wait all night
You've got it all and then you're lost in flight
Breakout now
Ain't no one gonna break your heart
You'll never do it if you never start
You be there
Breakout now

You gotta be the story told
And baby, no one's gonna steal your soul
You be there
If you believe in tomorrow and you wait all night Breakout now
You gotta be the story told
And baby, no one's gonna steal your soul
You be there
If you believe in tomorrow and you wait all night (fade)
Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by <http://greatlyrics.net/>