

Tea for Two

Albert Hammond Jr.

Say no more, I was yours
When your silence came over me
Head to toe, danger zone
You're afraid to throw away the key
Tell all your friends
Cover your losses on my expense
Tell all your friends
Why we burn at both ends
Brief collisions in the passing lane
Your turning signals light me up but nothing's changed
Red tape, silver lines
Tough breaks, working overtime
Is there something that you're looking for?
It's hard to tell when your ear's against the door
Nice shot, old flame
Can't stop, but nothing lasts forever
Say it matters
If it ain't from the heart then it ain't from me
Say it matters
Your secret is safe when you're close to me
Say it matters
And know that I'm touched but you're out of reach
Tell all your friends
Why we burn at both ends
Brief collisions in the passing lane
Your turning signals light me up but nothing's changed
Red tape, silver lines
Tough breaks, working overtime
Is there something that you're looking for?
It's hard to tell when your ear's against the door
Red dots, white wine
Safe sex, fighting all the time
Brief collisions in the passing lane (Say it matters)
Your turning signals light me up but nothing's changed (Say it matters)
Red tape, silver lines (Say it matters)
Tough breaks, working overtime (Say it matters)
Is there something that you're looking for? (Say it matters)
It's hard to tell when your ear's against the door (Say it matters)
Nice shot, old flame (Say it matters)
Can't stop, but nothing lasts forever

Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by <http://greatlyrics.net/>

