

Eddie's Ragga

Spoon

(yeah, yeah) Someone that I met that I hardly knew He said that everyone loves a defective heart He parted ways with diction this was late last night He seen me gettin your affection and it proved he was right the way I stare off thinkin' like all was sound anyone I knew would of called me foul you can break my legs you can kick me down stairs oh but there aint no gettin over Jonnie Helmare just let me walk away let me walk away
and then the place of night its in my face now soemone that I knew that I hardly met told me that it's hopeless I'm a slut for the new york time she made my heart stop roarin' they were let on the run she'd never been to texas never heard of king kong and it'd been so long since I had been suitably high so we did an airborne settled in for the night tell me sweetness don't she reach your heart until you fall flat down then you cant wait to start this is the one cold truth all of us know becuase I think to myself this could be easier I could face it alone
and then the place of night
it's in my face now
behind the face of mine

Lyrics provided by <http://greatlyrics.net/>